Class Comments

A disappointing number of forward wines, also several volatile, reductive or leesy wines. We laboured hard to find four golds of differing styles. Top wine had great flavour, fine texture, line and length.

Class Comments

Gold medal wine was a shining beacon in the class displaying varietal definition, good balance and some complexity. Main issues were phenolics and simplicity.

Class Comments

Oxidation, V.A. and overt sweetness were the bane of this class. Silver medal wines show varietal character, balance and vibrancy.

Class Comments

Pretty lack-lustre class with too many wines showing overt sweetness. Top wine was a very good example in the context of the class, showing better balance.

Class Comments

A very mixed bag, with several highlights but too many over oaked and spoilt wines. V.A., brett and over-acidification were problems. Top wines were a contrast, 19 being well structured and powerful, 36 being supple and seductive. Both were medium-bodied, typical Hunter styles. Good to see an absence of alcoholic blockbusters.

Class Comments

An interesting class with the top wine showing good varietal expression, but in need of time. More care needs to be taken with these wines to lessen incidents of oxidation and microbial issues.

An absolute delight to judge. Top wine a clear standout. Good to see a variety of different styles. Disappointing to see unnecessary sweetness across good fruit.

Class Comments

An impressive range of wines and styles. Top wines covered the spectrum from lean fruit expression to textured and fuller bodied.

Class Comments

Fair class of pleasant commercial wines with no outstanding wine; several overdeveloped, some too sweet, alcoholic or phenolic.

Class Comments

Somewhat disappointing class - we were expecting some more of the '07s, but many wines showed Brettanomyces, others were over-oaked or extractive. It was a pleasing result to find three gold medals.

Class Comments

A class of few highlights, possibly due to vintage. Many wines were either phenolic or prematurely developed. Top wine reflects '06 Vintage and was nicely balanced.

Class Comments

A lack-lustre class with too many wines lacking balance and character. Top wine is a nice example of the style, but lacked acid drive for gold.

Class Comments

Great privilege to see these lovely old wines. Several had seen better days (or corks) and some of the 2002s were just a bit austere. The two top golds are truly great wines.

Nice class showing promise for the future. Top wines were vibrant and elegant with good oak usage. Main faults were V.A. and a couple were microbial issues. Pleasure to judge.

Class Comments

Surprising number of over-oaked wines, also several overripe and some prematurely aged. 2007 seems to have an unusual vintage style - concentrated but lacking traditional Hunter elegance and balance.

Class Comments

Strong class with much debate. Balanced wines with good varietal expression were rewarded. Main issues were overt phenolics, attenuated ferments and oxidation.

Class Comments

A wonderful display of the Hunter's flagship variety, with several great wines of varying ages. It's hard to beat semi-mature Hunter semillon of five or six years of age, but several of the '09s are well in the race.

Class Comments

Pleasure to judge a class of this calibre. Top wines encapsulate everything that is wonderful about semillon and Hunter Terrior. The very few that did not get medals were either broad or too phenolic.

Class Comments

The best are refined, delicate wines with sensitively handled oak, balanced acidity, good line and length.
